

Dominik Zawadzki - Żabiński

Al. Sikorskiego 13 / 29

Warszawa 02-757, Poland

+48 604 098 404 e-mail: dzawxx@gmail.com

Short bio

Born in Warszawa, Poland in April 1976. Father escaped the communist regime in 1982 where he moved to Copenhagen, Denmark. Mother and I followed in 1985. I was 8.

Learned to speak Danish quickly as I went to Danish school and graduated in 1996. Was admitted to business college in 1998 but did not finish the education. While trying to find my own way in life I begun working with my father which had a construction company, but as it often is in family business, those two shouldn't be mixed together. My second attempt at school, studied psychology and sociology. Again, with poor effects, as my interested was in music, electronic music, became a music promoter. Worked with Copenhagen clubs and connected events with brands in sponsorship deals and more.

In 2010 I had an opportunity to visit Warszawa for a longer while as my aunt left me a small studio apartment as she passed away. The longer visit was followed by my mother Teresa Zabinska and I have stayed in Warszawa since, working with music and marketing. In 2017 the movie Zookeepers Wife came out, my mother and I was doing promotion for the movie, travelling to different European countries. In 2019 The Zabinski foundation was established promoting the family heroism during the WWII and more.

Some photos added below in this file, more photos on request.

